Vishinsky Says U.S. Gives Ultimatum

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky charged late today that the United States was presenting an "ultimatum" to Bulgaria, Albania and Yugoslavia in the Balkans quarrel with Greece. He accused the United States of "cowardice" in this respect. Gesticulating and shouting, Vishinsky took the floor in the United Nations Assembly's political committee after Herschel Johnson, U.S. delegate, had agreed to take a French compromise in the Balkans case if Bulgaria, Albania and Yugoslavia would accept a U.N. "watching" commission in the Balkans.

U.B.C. Invites Toronto Football Team To Play

VANCOUVER (CP)—Greg Kabat, coach of the University of B.C. football team, the Thunderbirds, said today U.B.C. had invited the touring University of Toronto Canadian football team to play in a New Year's Day game at Varsity Stadium here.

Bob Osborne, U.B.C. athletic director, said the whole deal hinges on suitable financial arrangements and a modification of Canadian playing rules.

"Greg and the boys would like to take on Toronto, but we hope to institute downfield interference as a concession to the style of play U.B.C. has played in the American conference."

Predicts Passage Of Seaway Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator George Aiken (Rep.-Vt.) predicted "without qualification" today that legislation authorizing the St. Lawrence Seaway and power development will be passed by the United States Senate next year.

Aiken, in an interview, said the long-sought $500,000,000 St. Lawrence project "is becoming increasingly a 'must' if for no other reason than we desperately need the great amount of hydro-electric power it will generate."

Truman Urges Labor, Industry Co-operate

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—President Truman, in a message to the American Federation of Labor convention, today called on labor and industry to "co-operate to raise the production level still further to help meet the critical conditions which threaten the well being of the entire world."

"I feel sure that America can depend upon its workers to co-operate fully and generously in an all-out effort to help feed the hungry across the seas in the months ahead," the President said.

Packers Negotiate

CALGARY (CP)—It was learned here today that officials of Burns & Company Ltd. and the Swift Canadian Company Ltd. are meeting informally with representatives of the United Packinghouse Workers in Edmonton. Rumors are current that the union may possibly agree to return to work in the three Edmonton packing plants came in a proclamation designating Oct. 12 as Columbus Day.

Neighbor May Have Clue To Murder Of Winnipeg Divorcee

WINNIPEG (CP)—A neighbor of Elsie Frances Tasker may hold a clue which will lead to identification of the slayer of the Winnipeg divorcee, whose fully clad body, stabbed eight times, was found in her downtown home last Saturday.

The neighbor told police that while working in his yard last Friday—the day the hazel-haired, thrice-married woman is believed to have been killed—he saw a man suddenly open the front door of the Tasker home, rush to her car, at the same time partly shielding his face with his coat collar, and drive away at a furious speed.

The neighbor said he recognized the clothes the man was wearing and believed he could identify him. He had seen him visit the Tasker residence before. This report tended to confirm police suspicion that the slayer had been somebody known to the attractive 38-year-old woman who, according to a sister, had been planning a fourth marriage shortly. Two of her previous marriages had ended in divorce, her other husband dying.

The suggestion that an acquaintance had committed the crime—the first murder in Winnipeg within a year—was further borne out by a friend of Mrs. Tasker, who said:

"Elsie would never let anyone into her home unless she knew them real well."

When the body of the divorcee was found, it was lying in the front hallway, a corn-yellow quilt covering the remains. While there were signs of a struggle in the room, an effort had apparently been made to clean up the mess.

Chief Constable Charles MacIver said police were checking up on everybody who ever knew Mrs. Tasker or frequented her home.

A check has also been made of all letters found in the house, but the police chief said no clue had been found.

Sight Plane Wreck

VANCOUVER (CP)—Air-sea rescue planes of the R.C.A.F. today reported sighting the wreckage of a twin-engine airplane on a mountain 10 miles south east of Squamish on Howe Sound 30 miles north of here.

Identification was not immediately possible, but R.C.A.F. officials said they believed it to be a Stranraer 946 flying boat which disappeared in 1941 en route to Patricia Bay, Victoria, from Penticton, B.C.

No Big Cut In Canada's Exports To Britain Foreseen

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian exports to Britain will probably not be greatly reduced even if Britain is driven to cut still further her dollar imports, a high authority on Canada's export trade said here today in an interview.

Commenting on the warning issued in London by Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's economic chief, that in the absence of some new dollar availability for Europe and Britain in the near future such cuts will be necessary, the Canadian expert said:

"Our exports to Britain now are pretty much on an essential basis. There is not much more Britain can cut from our exports. 'Wheat, for example, is absolutely solid. There may have to be some cuts in British imports of raw material for further manufacturing. I'm thinking of non-ferrous metals such as copper and lead."

"But on the other hand, the British are chasing us to export more steel billets—a form of ingot—to them. This is steel in the first stage after the blast furnace."

He said there is certainly nothing at present to indicate Britain is contemplating further restrictions on Canadian imports. "As a matter of fact we're worried about our own supply position," he said. "This is one of our biggest problems."

He said he felt Sir Stafford's remarks were part of the British policy to keep before the United States public the urgency of the dollar crisis in Britain and in Europe.

South Africans Told Of Help To Britain

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (CP)—Canadian Trade Minister MacKinnon, leading a trade mission on a tour of South Africa, said in an address today that Canada had a special concern for the speedy economic recovery of the United Kingdom, in which she had expressed her faith by dollar funds in gifts or credits to a total of $2,250,000,000. The Canadian people, he told a joint luncheon meeting here, were currently shipping food parcels to Britain at a volume exceeding the peak years of the war.

Eisenhower Could Win, Says Wallace

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Henry A. Wallace expressed the belief today that a Republican ticket with Gen. Eisenhower as the presidential nominee and Harold Stassen as his running mate would win the 1948 United States election "overwhelmingly." The former vice-president, in the midst of a New England tour, told a news conference that an Eisenhower-Stassen ticket would carry all but nine states against any opposition.

R.A.F. Rocket Plane, Pilotless, Makes Estimated 900 M.P.H.

PADSTOW, Cornwall, Eng.

(AP)—A small, pilotless rocket plane, launched by an R.A.F.

bomber high above the Atlantic, attained a speed estimated at 900

miles an hour today in an experiment to determine the effects of flight faster than sound.

The plane was the first of a group to be used by the supply ministry in experiments with supersonic speed.

The experiments were expected to produce valuable data about performance of ultra-high-speed aircraft as they approach and surpass the speed of sound, which varies from about 660 miles an hour at sea level to 760 miles an hour at 30,000 feet.

The robot today was cut loose nearly seven miles above the Earth—at 37,000 feet—at a point

14 miles west of the Scilly

Islands.

It was adjusted to dive into the sea after about 20 miles.

One phase of the experiment was to test air resistance at extreme speeds, which causes lack of stability and leads to lack of efficient control in conventional planes.

The experimental plane was made of polished mahogany. It had a wing span of eight feet and a length of about 12 feet.

The robot was equipped with transmitting apparatus to report technical details of its behavior.

Its alcohol-burning motor was an adaptation and improvement of those used in German rocket-propelled fighters during the war.

He also called for united action

by workers to force back prices.

This was the only language the government understood.

Pat Conroy, national secretary-treasurer, said relaxation of price control was "laying the groundwork for a most inglorious period in this country's history."

Not less than 90 per cent of Canadians wanted the retention of price controls, he said. But there had been a demand for decontrol from those seeking profits.

"A few lackeys in Parliament acting as jumping-jacks for those who would rend this country

apart were responsible," he exclaimed.

WOULD HAVE M.P.'S MEET

Conroy called for a special session of Parliament to restore price control and "restore decency to the homes of this nation."

Thomas Curran of the U.E.W.

in Welland, Ont., suggested the

C.C.L. seek help from other labor bodies on the question.

The Congress adopted the rent control resolution and it was followed by the introduction of one on price control generally.

The resolution demanded a special session of Parliament to:

1. Replace subsidies and price controls on foodstuffs, clothing and other essentials.

2. Re-impose the excess profits tax.

3. Investigate all price increases since decontrol and punish "those guilty of profitteering."

Labor Council approved the threat of a one-day strike.

C.C.L. Urges Rent Control Be Continued; Asks Special Session

TORONTO (CP)—A nationwide strike in the event of removal of rent controls was proposed today at the Canadian Congress of Labor convention.

The proposal came from John

Wigdor, United Electrical

Workers' delegate from Toronto,

as the Congress debated a resolution calling for retention of rent control and re-imposition of legislation prohibiting evictions.

Wigdor made his suggestion in discussing a statement in the resolution that there was a report that rent controls were to be released.

He also called for united action

by workers to force back prices.

This was the only language the

government understood.

Victoria Symphony Orchestra,

Britain Fears New Drastic Cut Of U.S. Imports

LONDON (Reuter)—Sir Stafford Cripps told a press conference today that "in the absence of some new dollar availability for Europe and ourselves within the quite near future we shall be driven to cut still further our dollar imports."

This would be the beginning of a process which, unless rapidly arrested, would lead to a gradual economic strangulation, Britain's economic chief said.

"We should have no alternative. We have already begun to dip into our reserve of gold and dollars—a reserve which is none too big and which serves the whole sterling area."

"Unless therefore there is some new availability of dollars before long, we shall be obliged to embark upon further cuts. That is the urgency of the present situation so far as we ourselves are concerned."

UNABLE TO FEED PEOPLES

"Other countries are faced with the same problem and will not be able to feed their people. There is no doubt as to the urgency of the whole problem raised by the Paris report and this is recognized on both sides of the Atlantic."

Sir Stafford said that Britain, by cutting imports and by increasing production efforts to expand exports, should narrow and finally abolish the gap in her over-all balance of payments. This would still leave her saddled with the dollar-deficit problem as dealt with by the Paris report.

"What has happened is that we have been forced to take our own extreme measures to try to mitigate our own very serious difficulties."

Explaining the difference between the Paris figures and the government's actual plans, he said:

"What I want to point out by this comparison is that though it is within our own power and capability to increase our production sufficiently to balance our imports by exports, we cannot of ourselves solve the bilateral question of the exchange of goods and services between Europe and the western hemisphere. It is this latter question which dominates the world's economic difficulties. Until it is solved nothing that we alone can do will enable us to get out of all our difficulties."

MORE LOAN AID

Asked whether he considered Britain might be able to draw on the remaining $400,000,000 of the loan from the U.S. before the end of the year, Sir Stafford replied: "It would be a useful form of aid."

This "very likely" would enable Britain to get through this year—"but how much further would depend on how much we dipped into our reserves."

He said he does not think it likely that British exports to the United States will ever balance United States exports to Britain.

2 Men, 1 Woman, Get Penitentiary Terms For Manslaughter

VANCOUVER (CP)—Three persons, two men and a woman, convicted of manslaughter, today were sentenced to penitentiary terms from five to 15 years. Both charges, originally murder, were reduced during trial at the Supreme Court assizes.

Elmer Edward Johnson, 26-year-old baker of suburban Burnaby, and father of two children, was sentenced to 12 years for the Stanley Park slaying of Mrs. Norma Burton, June 22. Her body was found near lonely Lost Lagoon and medical testimony proved she died of asphyxia.

"You have been ably defended," said Mr. Justice J. M. Coady, adding: "Circumstances in the case were of a sordid nature. I have given the sentence a great deal of consideration and feel you should serve 12 years in penitentiary."

John Kneller, 26-year-old bulldozer operator convicted in connection with the June 17 death of Harry Woo, 52-year-old cannery worker, received a sentence of 15 years.

Elinor Eva Boucher, 21, his common-law wife, received five years.

Woo died on an emergency ward operating table during an operation for a broken jaw, allegedly inflicted by Kneller during a fight in the woman's room.

12-Year-Old Girl Is Near Death After Attack By Dogs

A 12-year-old Saanich girl is fighting for her life in Royal Jubilee Hospital today suffering from injuries inflicted by two dogs which bit and mauled her for more than half an hour. She is being attended at hospital by Dr. W. A. McElmoyle.

The dogs which attacked her are reported to be large bulldogs. Saanich police say that the dogs attacked the girl outside a house where she was visiting in Saanich Monday. The battle went on for a half-hour before the dogs tired of the incident and left her huddled form.

She is suffering from numerous bites to the face and head, severe shock, and mental suffering as a result of her harrowing experience.

The girl's name has been withheld from the public at the request of the parents, who are anxious that no visitors or incidents impede the recovery of their little daughter in her battle for life.

Saanich police report that the girl is in no condition at the present time to give details of the attack.

No Urban Transit Tie-Up For Week Even If Strike Action Endorsed

Officials of the Street Railwaymen's Union (A.F.L.) said today in Vancouver that no tie-up of streetcars and buses here and on the mainland would be effected before next Wednesday even if a majority of the 2,851 employees of the B.C. Electric Railway Co. Ltd. transportation departments endorsed strike action.

The union membership is voting today here and in Vancouver and New Westminster on whether or not they should go on strike to enforce their demands for wage increases.

Result of the vote is expected to be announced Thursday noon in Vancouver. Ballots cast by the 244 employees here who are eligible to vote will be forwarded to Vancouver for counting Thursday morning.

Voting in Victoria started at 10 this morning at the employees' quarters at Broad and Yates Streets and continues until 5:30 tonight.

According to a Canadian Press dispatch from Vancouver membership meetings, at which a deadline for the strike will be set, are scheduled for later in the week, if the membership endorses strike action.

Supervising the vote here, the largest in the history of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act which became law last May 15 are 18 officials of the provincial labor department's conciliation and Board of Industrial Relations staffs. The vote in Victoria is being supervised by N. D. Lyons and S. Williscroft.

Only one previous government supervised strike vote has been conducted in the province under the act passed at the last session of the provincial Legislature. It was among 100 employees of the B.C. Power Commission at upland centres from Duncan to Port Alberni. These employees, while endorsing strike action, settled their differences with the commission without resorting to a strike.

Decision to take a strike vote was reached by streetcar and bus operators and other transit workers here last Friday when they unanimously at membership meetings decided to table the company's latest offer and seek an expression of opinion on strike action.

No New Relief Appropriation Planned By Canada For Poland

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada will not make any allocation to Poland from its $20,000,000 post-Unrra relief appropriation approved by Parliament last summer, it was learned today. There was no official reason given for this decision, which, it is understood, has just been made.

So far there is about $4,000,000 of this appropriation which has not been allocated, Canada already having made relief grants of $4,000,000 each to Italy and Greece and $3,000,000 to Austria.

In addition, about $5,000,000 of this appropriation has been earmarked as Canada's contribution to the International Children's Emergency Fund.

The question of post-Unrra relief was urgently discussed at the United Nations' General Assembly session one year ago in New York, because the Unrra program itself was coming to an end before the needs of people in war-devastated areas had been fully met.

The United Nations was not anxious to continue relief through an international agency and preferred to do its share directly on its own.

Canada believed there should be a continuing international agency, but the best she could do at the U.N. session was to advance a proposal and get it accepted for the establishment of a technical committee of experts, in which Canada was included, to study the minimum import requirements of the needy countries.

No Cause For Alarm At Warning By St. Laurent Of Regimentation

OTTAWA (CP)—Warning of External Affairs Minister St. Laurent in Quebec Tuesday night that the government may have to resort "to some measures of regimentation and direction of the economies of their peoples" to overcome "the difficulties we ourselves are experiencing" is interpreted here as referring to Canada's shortage of United States dollars.

"The minister evidently is preparing public opinion should government action be necessary to correct the situation," said one prominent economist. "The public should not become jittery over the matter. All through the years Canadian governments with the advice of their financial experts have been able to keep Canada out of financial jams and will do so in the future."

Whether Canada would have to take such corrective measures as limiting imports from the United States or floating a loan there will depend on the fate of the Marshall plan. If the U.S. Congress adopts a Marshall plan that is big enough and imaginative enough and authorizes it soon enough, then corrective measures by Ottawa might not be necessary.

He said the view that Canada would be called on under a Marshall plan to provide further heavy credits to Europe had resulted from a misinterpretation of the proposals for the plan submitted by the 16 European nations.

CANNOT AFFORD MORE "Canada is in no position to grant further credits," he said. "She just cannot afford it. If anything, she has erred on the side of generosity in her loans to the United Kingdom and other European countries. After all our loan to the United Kingdom of $1,250,000,000 was much greater than the United States loan of $3,750,000,000, having regard to the relative populations and wealth."

REGINA (CP)—The Saskatchewan government may boost old age pensions if the Dominion falls to implement its economic and social security proposals of 1945 in the near future, Premier T. C. Asks U.S. Distilleries Close For 60 Days

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Citizens' Food Committee formally requests distillers in the United States to close down for 60 days to save 10,000,000 bushels of grain.

Industry members indicated the reply at a late afternoon conference would be a somewhat reluctant "yes."

Seattle Fishboat Towed

SEATTLE (AP)—The 85-ton fishing vessel Fortress of Seattle, crippled and dangerously close to the rocky Oregon coastline, was taken in tow early today by the U.S. Coast Guard cutter Bonham.

The Fortress, owned and commanded by Capt. Melvin Jorgensen of Seattle, was kept from the rocks by three Coast Guard motor boats during a several hours' battle against heavy seas Tuesday night until the arrival of the Bonham.

Slew Million, S.S. Man Admits

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP)—Otto Ohlendorf, Nazi S.S. major-general, admitted today that his "Einsatz Commandos" slew a million "racially inferior" people in the east, but denied his own guilt and placed the blame on the Russians.

A CHANCE TO GO AHEAD

AFTER YEARS OF DISCUSSION, THE way seemed open today for constructive steps toward the establishment of a metropolitan water board for Greater Victoria. What details were presented to the City Council in committee yesterday relative to the creation of such an agency to care for this utility have not been made public. But Victoria's elected representatives have disclosed a definite interest in the proposal and the water board chairman has been instructed to discuss the question with authorities in Oak Bay and Saanich.

Technical and financial issues involved in the scheme are matters which require the attention of experts. Only qualified men can pass intelligent opinion on such factors. The general principle, however, should not be beyond the understanding of the layman. Briefly, the situation as it exists today is one in which Victoria holds a virtual monopoly on sources of major supply for this region. The city has developed the system which brings the water into town and to distributing points from which adjoining municipalities take it. The system is in need of renovation and repair. The argument has been advanced by Victoria that its present facilities, admittedly run down, are still adequate to furnish Oak Bay and Saanich with all the water those districts can carry over their distribution lines, provided they have the necessary means of improving pressure during seasons of heavy consumption.

The fact, however, that rationing must be imposed in Oak Bay and Saanich during the summer time supplies evidence of the need for improvement in all systems. Moreover, the future development of the main pipelines is a project which will entail heavy expenditure. The costs of these improvements must, of course, come eventually from the consumers.

In previous years, there has been an inclination on Victoria's part to consider the water utility a source of profit to the city—an attitude justifiable on the grounds that the supply system had been financed by Victoria taxpayers, who were entitled to a reasonable return on their investment. Litigation has been required to fix that return and in the legal battles which have occurred the co-operative spirit between all municipalities has been injured.

Now, as the community studies means of making provision for increased needs, the financing of such an undertaking assumes proportions which call for full co-operation by all municipalities. Concerted action, we suggest, can best be guaranteed by the establishment of a metropolitan board on which all will be represented. Through such an agency the needs and responsibilities of each district can be established. Its creation would not, of course, relieve the different entities of their share of the burden of costs. But the over-all improvement of the system could be undertaken on a co-ordinated basis for the benefit of each municipality concerned.

Another element enters into the question. Oak Bay and Saanich cannot be unaware of it. If the projected rehabilitation and extension of the water works system is left solely to the city, Victoria might find difficulty in assuming the total costs and might proceed only with limited improvements. Under such circumstances the needs of city consumers would be a first consideration. The other municipalities, no matter how urgent their requirements, could not force Victoria to take on a load greater than it could carry.

SAME OLD STUFF

IF CONSISTENCY IS A VIRTUE, THEN Mr. John Bracken, the national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, should be richly endowed. Unfortunately, to be continually in error destroys the value of such a laudable quality, and this is the type of consistency in which Mr. Bracken is once more indulging. The Opposition leader, electioneering in New Brunswick in behalf of his candidate in the coming federal by-election for the York-Sunbury seat, has told the Maritimers: 1. That taxes should be lowered; and 2. That old age and other pensions should be adjusted to the higher cost of living.

This is by no means the first time Mr. Bracken has called loudly for lower taxes and higher government expenditures. It is a call that seldom fails to appeal to a certain group of voters, even when the two conflicting ideas are expounded from the same platform and in the same breath. Taxes are part of the government's income—the money that is pooled by the people of the country for their common use. Pensions payments are part of the government's expenditure, and the money for them is derived from taxes. Mr. Bracken would never—at least he has not done so yet—tell a workman that he should cut his income and increase his expenses in order to achieve stability and prosperity. Yet that is what the Conservative leader advises the federal government to do.

He made much in a speech last night of what he termed a current federal surplus of $500,000,000. The thought seemed to rankle Mr. Bracken. He appears not to like the idea that the people of Canada are doing a little better than just scraping by. He ignores the fact that this money will be used for the common good of Canadians. But it may be surmised with more than a grain of certainty that the leader of the Opposition party would like nothing better in life than: 1. To be in office; and 2. To have a surplus of $500,000,000. Then the electors of York-Sunbury—and every other constituency in this Dominion—would be treated to a barrage of self-commendation on the benefits of a Conservative administration and the financial acumen of Mr. Bracken. But that time is not yet.

REAFFIRMATION

AS A PARTNER IN THE DIRECTION OF the government no less than as leader of the Conservative Party in British Columbia, Hon. Herbert Anscomb, Minister of Finance, took the opportunity yesterday to voice his opinions on the Coalition as he expressed his regrets over the pending retirement of Premier John Hart. The Conservative Party, he said, favored the continuation of the Coalition on the basis that the principles, obligations and responsibilities of the partnership are respected in every way—that no perpetual advantage to either party is to be taken for granted.

The minister's statement, his first since the announcement of Mr. Hart's decision, served to emphasize the staunch support he has given to the arrangement by which the old line parties stand together on a common program for the betterment of British Columbia. Had he wished to do so, he could have pointed to the record of the present administration in complete justification of his affirmation of faith that "the Conservative Party's main object, first and foremost, has been to serve the public good." Such has been the purpose of both parties to the Coalition and such has been their achievement.

That Mr. Anscomb should decline to be drawn out on speculative possibilities relative to future provincial political developments is natural. He is thoroughly informed on procedure and knows that such reorganization as is entailed within the ranks of the Liberal Party must await the decision of the convention to be held later in the year. Recognizing that fact, he obviously had nothing further to say on issues which must be conjectured at best.

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION

THOUGHTFUL READERS WILL HAVE noted with some dismay three news items on one page of this newspaper yesterday dealing with convictions under the Narcotic Drugs Act. The appearance of prisoners in court on relevant charges will be taken as an indication of an increase in this social evil which cannot be accepted with equanimity.

Medical science, we are informed, is still wrestling with the task of finding a means of relieving addicts of their dependence on these drugs, and efforts at cures, or even reduction in the traffic, is attended by enormous difficulties. Apart from the deterioration which occurs in the individual who has recourse to these transient stimuli, the social significance of their use is generally understood. Individuals dependent on narcotics are impelled to secure them at almost any cost from almost any source. That they are forced to pay many times their value on the illegal market seems but a slight deterrent. When they lack money, they sink lower in the criminal scale to satisfy an impelling vice that is too strong for them. And eventually they pay the ultimate price in physical suffering and moral degradation.

What action must be taken to curb the improper use of narcotics is a matter for the medical scientist and the sociologist. But what should be obvious to the average adult, and specifically to parents, is that no opportunity should be lost to instruct children and adolescents in the outcome of experimentation with narcotics. An ounce of prevention is worth many pounds of cure.

HE OUGHT TO KNOW

THERE WAS MORE THAN A SUGGESTION of unconscious irony in the words of Sir Mohammed Zafrullah Khan, the Pakistan delegate to the United Nations Assembly, when he declared yesterday that partition of Palestine into Jewish and Arab sections would be a "monstrosity." It is just two months since the peninsula of India was partitioned into the two Dominions of India and Pakistan—thereby releasing a series of massacres that have run the death toll of Hindus and Moslems into hundreds of thousands. The Pakistan delegate must have been speaking with full sincerity, although he made no reference to Indian developments, when he said "partition will serve to increase the strife (in Palestine) rather than to allay the conflict." As a supporter of the Arab demands for a united Palestine, he was able to provide from his own unfortunate experience an example of the tragic results that may ensue from the division of a country into two parts differing in racial and religious concepts.

Matter Of Fact

By JOSEPH ALSOP

THE NIGGARDLY BLOOD DONOR

THE STRANGE DELUSION, that the European economic and political crisis can be overcome by pinch-penny half measures, seems to be firmly fixed in what passes for the mind of political Washington. If a patient in his care were dying for want of a blood transfusion, no doctor in his senses would say, "Yes, he can have a transfusion, but not a drop more than half a gill." Yet this is the system of President Truman's initial response to the anguished French and Italian requests for aid.

To be sure, the President has a certain excuse. In this case the United States is blood donor as well as doctor. The country is beginning to suffer cruel gas pains in the region of that troublesome organ, the Congress. But the death of Europe will bring in its train disaster, utter, final and rapid, for the United States as well. And this is why one finds, among leading personalities here in Paris, American as well as French, a mood of mounting despair.

THE DESPAIR IS ALL the deeper—the highest officials are all the more ready to confess with shattering frankness, "The end is in sight"—because the mood of today has abruptly replaced a mood of hope. In the convalescent ward which is postwar Europe, France was doing well until the present hemorrhage began.

Even now, one can still see the remaining signs of healthy recovery. In the purely economic domain, French production had been pushed upwards nearly to the 1938 level, and while their coal and raw materials last, the factories continue to pour out their goods.

IN THE DOMAIN of politics, the Communist effort had reached and passed its peak many months ago. By a fantastically phony propaganda, coupled with lavish financing, the Communists have continued to make slight gains among the peasants. Yet there has recently appeared, in their vital base of operations, the trades union movement, a strong and energetic grass-roots opposition composed of rank and file workers disgusted with the party dictatorship. If France's economic recovery is allowed to continue, there is reason to hope that the Communists can be driven from their control of the C.G.T. (French Labor Federation), their weapon of blackmail against every French government, within a year or so.

The cause of France's hemorrhage was mainly, of course, this year's cruelly bad harvest. The loss of the harvest, coupled with the collapse of Britain's sterling convertibility, has given a violent impetus to the postwar inflation. It is impossible to exaggerate the gravity of France's present situation.

IN BRIEF, SHORTAGE of gold and dollars forced the Bank of France a month ago to restrict imports to four essential categories: food grains, fats, petroleum products and coal. Thus no orders have been placed for a month for essential raw materials for French industry. Moreover, restrictions are now beginning even in the essential categories of imports, without which France quite literally cannot live. Some days ago, the so-called Committee of Six, meeting amid the lovely, slightly shabby 18th century splendors of the Hotel Matignon, took a decision of unimaginable gravity. France's petroleum stocks are so low that they can last only a couple of months. Nevertheless, the shrewd Monick, governor of the Bank of France, informed Premier Ramadier and the other members of the committee that it was impossible to place further contracts for petroleum imports without sacrificing elsewhere. And so it was decided to cancel 450,000 tons of forward coal contracts—which risks adding future strangulation to the present hemorrhage.

IN THIS SITUATION President Truman has thus far promised France $100,000,000 immediately and something like $300,000,000 at the end of a December, special session. France's minimum need, which must be met in full if the French economy is to continue to operate, is for over $100,000,000 monthly until the Marshall plan can come into force, at least seven months from now.

Furthermore, the timing of the aid offered by President Truman will prevent the placing of any import contracts whatever, even for wheat, during November, December and probably part of January. This means that in the worst period of the winter France will be plunged into the most fearful unemployment. At the same time a heavy cut will have to be made in the near-starvation rations of the French man in the street. Inflation, disorganization and political extremism will then reign unchallenged.

ADOPTING HALF MEASURES now, in short, is just another way of playing children's games with destiny. Furthermore, it is utterly unnecessary. The money can be found, without resort to Congress, simply by unwinding one or two American bureaucrats from their constraining cocoons of red tape. Is the American future to be jeopardized solely to keep a few Treasury and other officials in their favorite wrap-pings for the long winter hibernation which follows the long summer sleep?

Scotland Plans Educational Revision

News From Scotland

SCOTTISH education has been much in the news lately. In January an Advisory Council Report on Primary Education was received with an enthusiasm not usually accorded to government reports. It was vital, stimulating, and brimful of ideas, brushing away all the cobwebs that had gathered around the subject in the course of years. All of its recommendations may not be accepted or acceptable, but it sounded a challenge that could be heard from one end of the country to the other. Plaudits even came from south of the border for the report's "unconventional style, fresh outlook and literary excellence." And now, close on the heels of this refreshing document, comes another report by the same body, this time dealing with secondary education in Scotland. "Gratitude for the patience, resourcefulness and fortitude of common folk during the war has made widespread the feeling that the best education the nation can offer is not too good for their sons and daughters," the council state, and inspired by this thought they have surveyed the whole field of secondary education and made widespread recommendations.

OTHER STUDIES

In addition to intellectual studies, they suggest the school should concern itself with care for the bodily health and well-being of the pupils; the desire of adolescents to use hand, eye and brain together; the need to develop the emotional and aesthetic side by giving a bigger place to music, dancing, and the visual arts; and the systematic and informed teaching of the Bible, Prime place—in intellectual studies, the council consider, should be given to spoken and written English, the rudiments of number and spatial relationships, general science, and social studies. The ideals of the new age are, in their opinion, best embodied in the "omnibus" school—a school for all the post-primary pupils of a given area.

In recommending radical changes in the examination system, the report says, "useful during a period of rapid expansion, it cramps a secondary system that has reached full stature. It exalts memory, depresses the non-examinable, and becomes an end in itself, so that even where it spurs to harder work, it destroys the finer educational values."

'CLASSICAL INHERITANCE'

"The unique value of the classical inheritance" is admitted, and it is recommended that no boy or girl in any part of Scotland should lack the opportunity to study the classics. The council regret the virtual monopoly of French, and stress the urgent importance of the study of Russian in the Sixth Form. Science should have adequate attention as "the dominant and distinctive element in contemporary European culture."

The report, like its predecessor, has all the makings of a best-seller. Its proposals have still to be considered by the Secretary of State for Scotland, but there is no doubt that it marks a significant stage in the history of Scottish education.

Tall Tales From The Tall Timbers

Frank Lane in London Calling

AN IRISH sportsman, while shooting near a salmon fishery in Connemara, fired at a grouse, hit a hare, and killed a salmon. The salmon, which was killed as it leapt, weighed ten pounds. But only an Irishman, shooting in Ireland, would have thought of going such a round-about way to bag a salmon.

Perhaps not so spectacular—but certainly more useful, from the cook's point of view—was the feat of a sportsman who killed a hare and five partridges with one pull of the trigger. But a feat which rejoiced the inmates of the kitchen even more was that of a wildfowler who brought down eight greylag geese with two shots—four with each barrel. Seventy pounds of meat for the price of a couple of cartridges!

DOUBLE SHOTS

The annals of shooting contain a number of remarkable "double shots." A stoat which had attacked a grouse was carried into the air by the bird, and both were brought down when a sportsman fired at the grouse. A similar fate overtook a hawk and snipe, as the captor and victim were hit in mid-air. A hare and a fox have fallen to the same shot, as have, also, a partridge and a fox.

Occasionally a sportsman's would-be victim turns the tables on the hunter—and a man finds himself at the wrong end of a gun. This happened when a man who had been out shooting threw an apparently dead hare into the back of his car. Actually, the hare had been only stunned, and, on recovering consciousness, it started to explore the back seat. One of its feet came into contact with the trigger of the still-loaded gun, and when the sportsman woke up he had a charge of shot in the neck. Fortunately, he recovered, but whether he ever went shooting hares again is not recorded.

REVENGE

The most spectacular revenge ever taken on a sportsman was surely that of the pike which had attacked a grouse was carried into the air by the bird, and both were brought down when a sportsman fired at the grouse. A similar fate over-on the bank of a river when he hooked, and landed, a pike. Without troubling to kill it, he threw it beside his rifle on the bank, and went on fishing. During its struggles the pike touched the trigger of the rifle, and sent a bullet into the trapper, who was killed outright.

ROYAL BARRAGE

I finish with a gem of sports-reporting, written, evidently, by a man who hardly knew one end of a gun from the other—but it has certain added to the gaiety of shooting lore.

Before the first world war, our King Edward VII went out for a day's pheasant shooting with Germany's Kaiser Wilhelm II. A newspaper, which still remains nameless, commented upon the day's proceedings as follows: "The ponderous birds were mowed down by the sportsmen, royal as well as lordly. His Majesty King Edward was somewhat less agile than his august relative: he was shooting with a pair of twelve-inch guns! It is hardly surprising he was a bit less agile than a man who was shooting with a mere twelve-bore!"

Global Survey

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Affairs Analyst

As communism intensifies its drive for world revolution we find Russia holding the whip hand at the outset in the European struggle, in that the Moscovites and their satellites possess the great bulk of the continent's current food resources, whereas the democracies of the western area are suffering actual hunger.

That's the way dame nature divided things up this year—good crops on the whole in eastern Europe, and bad ones in most parts of the west. So fortune has handed the Bolsheviks a mighty weapon with which to persuade, or to compel, distressed peoples to knuckle under.

When folk are hungry, and especially when they see their children hungry, they will do most anything to secure food. Among the particularly vulnerable countries are Italy, Austria, Germany and France.

Bolshevism's heaviest initial assault is expected to be made in Europe, and in the case of hard-hit Italy there is fear that the Bolsheviks may resort to revolution. Short of that, strikes and disorders are anticipated in an effort to achieve by force what can't be accomplished by moral suasion. Britain, although badly hit by the economic depression, is rather outside the range of Moscow's big guns.

Another field of direct action will be Asia, especially in China and Korea. The big question of the moment in that area is whether the Chinese Communists will get material Russian aid in their civil war with the Chinese Nationalist Government. The Chinese government long has maintained that the Russians are aiding the Chinese Reds in the battle for the great and rich territory of Manchuria. Moscow would give much to have a puppet state wedged into the northern flank of China.

As for Korea, the Soviet Union already has established itself in the northern half of the country, thereby securing an invaluable military base. Reports from southern Korea, now occupied by American troops, say that the Russians are trying to precipitate a Communist upheaval.

Meantime in the United States, and in other countries throughout the western hemisphere, we may look for an intensification of fifth-column and spy activities.

FORETHOUGHT OR INJUSTICE

Windsor Star
There is a warning and a rebuke for parents in the experience of Abraham Lincoln Harris of Santa Cruz, Calif. After 29 years he has had enough of it. He is asking a court to change his name to Al.

But Al Harris is only a symbol of the injustice worked by parents on infants too young and helpless to defend their rights. It would seem only proper that the law should give every child the right to pick his own name the day he's promoted to the seventh grade. The psychiatrists may carry on from here.

CHANGE OF ATTITUDE

Edmonton Bulletin
It may be that the Arab nations will modify their belligerent attitude toward the western powers now that they must ask these countries to save them from the threatened ravages of the Black Death?

SUPERIOR ONLY

Montreal Star
An Oxford don now in the United States notes that in America children are not treated as their parents' equals. No, and they wouldn't like it if they were, after growing up in the belief that they are their parents' superiors.

FOREWARNED

Financial Post
In these days of recurring crises a great many people on this continent, Canadians as well as Americans, are beginning to realize that what they used to terms "British Imperialism" at least maintained peace and order throughout a large area of the world. If that role is now to be assumed by Uncle Sam, then American citizens had better prepare themselves for bigger tax bills and much bigger armies.

MARGARINE PREFERRED

Edmonton Journal
The producers of butter fat have been able to keep margarine out of the country for twenty-four years, for they fear possible competition from it. Probably their alarm is well-founded, for it is recorded that a local dairyman, asked to test several pats of butter, declared a certain sample high in his list of preferences and nearly faint with joy when told it was margarine!

Cecil Brown—Britain Is Not Dying

REBUTTAL of an article entitled "England Is Dying," published recently in a well-known American magazine, has appeared in the form of a published interview with Cecil Brown, American radio commentator and war correspondent, who has just completed an extensive tour of the British Isles with a view to obtaining an accurate, first-hand picture of post-war Britain.

In the interview, conducted by the Travel Association of Great Britain and appropriately entitled "Britain Is Not Dying," Mr. Brown expresses the view that Britain will win the battle for survival presently being waged although he does not think that the ordinary workingman appreciates the very critical position in which the country finds itself.

FOR SELF-INTEREST

Mr. Brown also contends that Americans and the rest of the world generally, should take a more vital interest in Britain's problems, "as a matter of selfish self interest" and suggests as one practical method of assistance traveling in the British Isles.

"They are reasonably ready to receive tourists and everywhere I have been I have met with wonderful courtesy and service," Mr. Brown asserted. "The average tourist will be pleased with conditions in Britain," he continued, "and in my view there is enough to eat although the diet lacks variety. A visit to Great Britain today is a vital experience for one cannot help feeling the impact of these great social changes upon one."

Chevrier Says Only Liberals Can Meet Postwar Challenge

Federal Transport Minister Chevrier told the Laurier Club here Tuesday that the Liberal Party was the only party with the doctrine and leaders capable of meeting the postwar challenge in Canada.

Addressing a luncheon at the Douglas Hotel dining-room, Mr. Chevrier, who immediately following his address left for Vancouver, said the challenge today was just as great as during the war but added that "with the true spirit of liberalism, I have no doubt that in this community, and we in Ottawa will be able to work together towards unity and freedom."

He emphasized the duty of individuals, and of groups such as the Laurier Club, to arm themselves against Communist doctrines and to fight them.

Liberals could meet the recurrent chaos of war by preserving the peace and promoting the cultural and economic well-being of mankind, said Mr. Chevrier.

The promotion of cultural and economic well-being of mankind meant protection of law, protection of religious freedom, economic security, fostering of freer trade, he said.

"Capitalism must learn to get along with a smaller share of the national income," said Mr. Chevrier. "Big business must be content to get along with smaller profits than after the First World War. If this is not done it will be unfortunate for the whole system."

Mr. Chevrier said price control was the constitutional right of the provinces taken over by the federal government in wartime because of the national emergency and the control of prices now was being returned to the provinces where it rightfully belonged.

Decontrol, he continued, was being proceeded with because it was not fair to ask the ordinary taxpayer to pay subsidies through the Dominion government. In giving back to business the control of prices, the government did so with the belief that it will not extract tremendous profits, he said.

Arena Roof Cover, Drainage Tender Placed For $16,994

The contract for the roof covering and drainage of the Memorial Arena was let by the City Council at a special meeting Tuesday to Pacific Sheet Metal Works for $16,994.

The second tender submitted was not considered by the council because it was not properly signed and no deposit cheque included.

With the letting of this contract considerably less than $100,000 will remain in the arena fund or completion of the building, which includes the side walls, seating and all interior construction.

The Pacific Sheet Metal Works said it would take 36 working days to complete the roofing job, which calls for an asphaltic covering for the concrete barrel-type roof, and the painting of the whole with aluminum paint. Copper flashings must also be put on over the asphalt joints between the sections of the arena. In the discussion on the rink, during which C. T. Hamilton, consulting engineer, explained details on a model, and said that a curling rink could be added at the back of the present building without any remodeling on the refrigeration plant. An extra valve and pipe connections are being installed to take care of it in the future.

Ald. Margaret D. Christie queried what was being done about setting a plaque with the names of all the men who died on active service. Ald. Edward Williams said it was under consideration, and at present a memorial book was most favored to hold the names.

The building will seat 4,250 for hockey games, Mr. Hamilton said, and up to 6,000 for concerts, theatre performances or conventions. He said the floor under the ice would be terrazzo, and the ice surface could be cleared off in an hour to make the building ready for other uses. The ice surface will be only three-quarters of an inch thick.

He promised too that acoustics for concerts or symphony work the building would be excellent.

To Consult Oak Bay, Saanich On Forming Joint Water Board

After a four-hour discussion Tuesday with Dr. A. E. Cleveland, special commissioner surveying water problems for the southern portion of Vancouver Island, the City Council decided it was interested in the formation of a metropolitan water board.

The water board, under the chairmanship of Ald. F. N. Cabellu, was authorized to contact Oak Bay and Saanich and lay Dr. Cleveland's proposals before them to ascertain whether they would be prepared to join in such a Metropolitan Water Board.

Details of Dr. Cleveland's proposals would not be released by Ald. Cabellu. However, it is understood that the new board, if formed, would take over the supply system and the distribution systems would remain in the hands of the municipalities.

The city owns Esquimalt distribution system, so that municipality will not enter into the deliberation. The new board would take over the city's water-shed property provided a satisfactory financial arrangement can be made regarding the city's assets and the debt now owed on the supply system, which is estimated to be well over $2,000,000. Ald. Cabellu said the council and the water board will give serious consideration as to which system will give best service to the entire community, and also which will cost the citizens of Victoria the least in the long-term program of development.

Job Study Winners Get Bursaries

W. D. Gray, centre, chairman of the B.C. Products Bureau, presenting Margaret McDonald with a bursary for her prize-winning entry in recent job study contest. Other winners are, left to right: Dennis Bailey, North Saanich High School; William Floyd, Esquimalt High School, and Ralph Alexander, Victoria High School.

Greater Victoria and lower island high school students who were successful participants in a "job study" project conducted throughout the province during the last school term were rewarded for their entries at Tuesday's meeting of the Victoria Kiwanis Club when they were presented with bursaries by W. D. Gray, chairman of the B.C. Products Bureau of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

Mr. Gray explained that the idea of getting students to complete job studies was just one phase of a program being conducted by the B.C. Products Bureau to sell British Columbia to young people of the province. "There is more to this province than scenery. There is opportunity for youth here," Mr. Gray said. He noted that many young people raised and educated in this province went east or to the United States to look for employment. "We must stop this migration. We need our young people here and we need them badly," Mr. Gray said.

Harold Johns, director of education for the provincial government and chairman of the Kiwanis vocational guidance committee, said the B.C. Products Bureau was doing a great public service by taking such interest in the young people of the province. He noted the potential wealth of various resources, but added: "Our prosperity is tied up with the development and use of our greatest natural resource—our youth."

Job studies call for students to collect information and produce a report on any occupation which is carried out in this province. Choice of occupation is left to the student himself. The report is expected to explain qualifications and requirements for one entering this occupation.

On Western Tour

Frederick Gordon Belcher, assistant general manager of the Bank of Montreal for the prairie provinces, British Columbia and the Yukon, who arrives in Victoria tomorrow morning, Mr. Belcher, whose visit here is part of a month's tour he has been making of western Canada, has just spent six days in Vancouver. He will remain in Victoria for two days, after which he will visit Penticton, Kelowna and Vernon, before returning to Montreal.

Would Silence Whistles

PORT CREDIT, Ont. (CP)—There will be no more train whistling in this village if a by-law passed by the local council Monday night is approved by the Transport Commissioners of Canada. As the by-law, forbidding train whistling within the village, was being given its third reading, a blast from a passing locomotive almost interrupted the proceedings.

give advantages and disadvantages of such employment, probable wages and likelihood for advancement.

57 BURSARIES

Fifty-seven bursaries, together totaling $2,850, are awarded annually to the authors of the best reports. The bursaries are not confined for distribution to any one section since the province is zoned according to school population and each zone is given a quota of the prize money. In the lower Vancouver Island zone, which takes in and includes all schools below Duncan, six bursaries are awarded.

Four of last year's six winners were in attendance at the meeting to receive their prizes from Mr. Gray. They were: Margaret McDonald, a student at Victoria High School; Ralph Alexander, Victoria High School; Dennis W. Bailey, North Saanich High School, and William Floyd, Esquimalt High School.

Two other winners, Helen Hill and Gene Simpson, have now graduated from high school and were unable to attend the meeting. Their bursaries will be mailed to them.

BENEFITS GAINED

In a brief address of appreciation, Miss McDonald spoke of the many benefits gained by students through vocational guidance training. "It is hoped that some day everyone will be suited to his employment and will be happy in it. Vocational guidance is helping us to reach this goal," she said.

Main speaker at the meeting was deputy minister of education F. T. Fahey, who noted that methods of education were changing as society changed. He said the trend today was toward specializing but added that schools in this province still stressed the cultural side of education.

He noted industry was showing an ever-increasing interest in education and was doing much in the field of vocational guidance. He praised the work being done by the B.C. Products Bureau and expressed hope that similar bodies would follow the example which it has set in giving tangible support to students.

Guests at the head table included H. L. Campbell, assistant superintendent, British Columbia department of education; J. F. K. English, senior inspector of schools for Greater Victoria; Archie C. Foreman, secretary of the B.C. Products Bureau, and J. E. Underhill, chairman of the vocational guidance group of the bureau.

Double-Ring Rites At First United

Chrysanthemums of mauve, white and gold formed the floral background for the double-ring ceremony at First United Church Saturday evening when Rev. Hugh A. MacLeod joined in marriage Frances Bernice Dalziel, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham, 2723 Graham Street, and Albert Edward Stone, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Stone, 217 Windwood Avenue.

The bride's gown was of white sheer, with embossed wreath pattern, and long train. Her head dress consisted of small calla lilies arranged in a halo, from which fell an embroidered floor-length veil. She wore a single strand of pearls, and carried red roses and white carnations. She was given in marriage by her stepfather.

Mrs. Harry Wilson of Vancouver was matron of honor for her sister-in-law, wearing a gown of blue sheer, with blue velvet headpiece, and carrying a shower bouquet of pink and white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids, Miss Ruby Harvey and Miss Sheila Grice, were dressed identically in white sheer, with shoulder-length veils held by coronets of daisies, and carried bouquets of deep pink chrysanthemums. Little Diane Stokes, cousin of the bride, was flower girl in dotted pink Swiss muslin and matching bandeau, and carried a colonial bouquet.

Albert Davies was best man, and ushers were Jack Smith, Stan Walters and Al Earle. During the ceremony Miss Marian Inglis sang "Because." At a reception held in the Goblin Ballroom, Mrs. Graham and Mrs. Stone assisted the young couple in receiving 150 guests under an archway of pink and white and flame gladioli. The table was set with lace cloth and white candles in cutglass holders, and the three-tier wedding cake was surrounded by gladioli.

For a motor trip to Portland the bride wore a dress of white and fuchsia, with grey accessories, fuchsia shortie coat, and gardenia corsage bouquet. Her silver necklace was the gift of the groom.

On their return to the city Mr. and Mrs. Stone will reside at 1711 Pembroke Street.

Wedding Vows Taken At St. Mary's Church

Decorated with baskets of chrysanthemums, St. Mary's Church, Oak Bay, was the scene of a wedding Saturday evening, when Archdeacon A. E. de L. Nunna joined in marriage Jessie Campbell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. Setter, of Portland, Oregon, and Thomas Edgar Robinson, son of Mrs. C. A. Goring, Cadboro Bay Road.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore white silk jersey, fashioned en train with draped skirt, long sleeves and bateau-neck finished with a fold of self-material. From a coronet headdress of net misted an embroidered floor-length veil. Her only jewelry consisted of a string of pearls, and she carried a shower bouquet of red roses, gardenias and swainsona.

Mrs. E. C. Fitzpatrick, matron of honor, wore turquoise taffeta with matching net headdress and long mitts. The bridesmaid, Miss Doris Stenmark, wore primrose yellow net over taffeta, with net headdress and gloves to match. Both attendants carried colonial bouquets of roses, gardenias and gladioli in pink shades, surrounded by heather.

William Ackland acted as best man.

At a reception held in the Hotel Douglas banquet room, Mrs. Setter and Mrs. Goring assisted in receiving the guests. The three-tiered cake centring the table was cut by the young couple, who will make their home in Victoria.

For a honeymoon in Portland the bride wore a grey crepe dress with bright wine topcoat, black accessories and corsage bouquet of pink roses.

A few drops of glycerine rubbed over the bathroom mirror will prevent the latter from steaming when hot water is run for shower or bath.

CAPITOL THEATRE
William Powell and Myrna Loy, the screen's "perfect husband and wife," are teamed for the 13th time in "Song of the Thin Man," currently at the Capitol Theatre. In their new picture, sixth of the popular "Thin Man" adventures, they again mix homicide and hilarity in another wild murder chase. Keenan Wynn heads a supporting cast which also includes Dean Stockwell, Philip Reed, Patricia Morison and Gloria Grahame.

Hedy Lamarr Thinks She Has Found True Love At Last

You've never seen anything like the change a few short months have made in Hedy Lamarr. Only time will tell for sure whether it's a new romance which has brought about this happy result, because neither Hedy nor Mark Stevens is saying anything definite. They can't, naturally. For, though Hedy has won her freedom from John Loder, the separation of Mark and Annette Stevens is still so new that Hollywood tongues haven't yet ceased wagging about its cause and origin.

All I know is that it looks and sounds like the romance both Hedy and Mark have been waiting for. Not only are they two very nice and pleasant people, but they've had their flings at trial and error in marriage. It isn't always easy to maintain poise under the glare that focuses on Hollywood romances. These two are facing that difficult situation with dignity and frankness. Hedy tells you honestly that she feels she's just begun to live again. Mark is more guarded, as is only natural under the circumstances.

However, the fact that he spent every possible moment with Hedy while he was busy with a trying role in Century-Fox's "The Snake Pit" is actually all the answer one needs.

Complete with pictures, the Nov. 15 edition of Modern Screen Magazine gives you the complete facts about Hedy Lamarr's marital troubles. Hedy's fans will not want to miss this interesting article on page 24.

Modern Screen Magazine is now on sale at your magazine dealers and is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C.

Canteen Foundation To Build Apartments For U.S. Veterans

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bette Davis tells me the Hollywood Canteen Foundation has found a worthy use for its large fund. As soon as a location can be found, the foundation will build a veterans' housing centre with apartments to rent at $65. The foundation has discovered that veterans don't want charity, but a helping hand in housing would fill the bill.

Joan Fontaine, free for the first time from film contracts, announces that hereafter she'll work only for herself.

"I'm going to be my own David O. Selznick," she told me. She is making "Letters from an Unknown Woman" for her Rampart Productions and will either make pictures for that company or be loaned out by it.

After "Letters," Joan will lend herself (a neat trick) to the Hakim Brothers for "Mayerling." Her current leading man, Louis Jordan, may also appear in it, and if so, it will be the first time she has played twice with the same male star.

BACK IN STRIDE

Olivia de Havilland, who just finished "The Snake Pit," told me to do another film right away. "But it's got to be good," she says. That's the trouble with Academy Award winners—they want to keep topping their previous efforts. So they don't work as often.

Charles Boyer wanted to be in "Joan" but was turned down, and for an interesting reason. His French accent would have conflicted. All of the performers except Ingrid Bergman will be English or American and Charles' Gallic tones would have stuck out like garlic in a French pastry. . .

KEPT BUSY

Jimmy Durante has gone into the music publishing business. He did so to keep his corps of hangers-on from idleness. Now they're all officials of the firm. . . Van Johnson's dressing room on the "State of the Union" set is next to that of the extremely vocal Adolphe Menjou, but so far they haven't discussed politics. "I don't know the first thing about politics," Van admits.

Ernest Haycox, the author, has sold a score of his exciting stories to Hollywood in the last few years. His most recent was "Canyon Passage," which appeared first in the Saturday Evening Post. The purchaser was Walter Wanger who made it into a picture for Universal release. The film, co-starring Dana Andrews, Brian Donlevy and Susan Hayward, is now at the Rio Theatre.

ROYAL THEATRE
An exhaustive inquiry into the anguished emotions of a woman rejected by the man she loves furnishes the exciting thematic fabric of Warner Bros. "Possessed," now at the Royal Theatre. Joan Crawford and Van Heflin, in co-stellar roles, head the cast of the Jerry Wald production which follows faithfully in the distinguished tradition of its two illustrious predecessors, "Mildred Pierce" and "Humoresque."

Building Contracts Let In September Total $76,163,500

Construction contracts awarded across Canada totaled $76,163,500 for the month of September, an increase of $31,300,000 over the $44,810,400 reported during September, 1946, according to MacLean Building Reports Ltd.

This brings the total to date to $548,232,200, an increase of $42,700,000 over the nine months' total of 1946.

All classifications of construction showed substantial increases with the exception of commercial construction which declined $1,500,000 for the first time this year. Residential building at $22,473,300 was up $8,900,000 over the $13,541,500 for last September; industrial construction reversed the trend shown so far this year with an increase of $8,200,000 over the $10,392,500 reported last September. Total industrial awards for September amounted to $18,663,100. Engineering construction gained heavily at $20,160,700 for the month, an increase of $15,600,000 over last year's $4,500,000 total. Commercial construction for the month totaled $14,866,400 as compared with $16,376,600 for September, 1946.

Britain Speeds Up Discussion On Plan To Quit Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS (CP) — Britain has speeded up consultations to fix a date for withdrawal from Palestine, informed British quarters said today.

These quarters said this question was being considered urgently by officials in London and administrative and military leaders in Palestine.

Actual date of withdrawal may be announced before the end of the present session of the United Nations' Assembly, it was said.

The same sources, explaining complete British withdrawal would be contingent on failure of the Assembly to find a solution acceptable to both Arabs and Jews, said Britain had not completely abandoned hope that agreement could be reached.

Britain planned no further statement of policy on the Palestine problem beyond announcement of the withdrawal date.

Urges Citizens To Give Co-operation During Fire Week

"Let us strive to make Victoria the safest as well as the best place to live in," urged Fire Chief Robert T. Brindle today in his message to the public in connection with Fire Prevention Week.

"I appeal to you for continued co-operation so that we can improve upon and maintain our record of first place in comparative size for fire prevention in North America," he said.

This week Canada and the United States join together in a fire prevention week campaign to bring to the attention of the people of both countries the necessity of eliminating fire causes.

"The needless loss of life and appalling destruction of property goes on continuously because of the failure of so many to practice and accept fire prevention as a personal responsibility."

Court Dismisses Drug Appeals

The appeal against conviction of James C. Minton and James H. Farnum, found guilty in Vancouver police court of being in the possession of drugs, was dismissed by the Appeal Court.

The court reserved judgment in the case of Verge Joseph Drenka, 20-year-old youth, who was found guilty by a Vancouver magistrate of having unlawfully in his possession morphine. Drenka was sentenced to one year imprisonment and a whipping with the paddle.

Thomas Hurley represented the appellants, while Douglas Brown acted for the Crown.

Special Parliament Session Sought By Conservative Leader

HARVEY, N.B. (CP)—John Bracken wants Prime Minister King to call Parliament into special session immediately.

The national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, opening a three-day speaking tour in connection with the York-Sunbury federal by-election Oct. 20, declared Tuesday night that action must be taken without delay to solve "the rising cost of living and high taxes and the rapidly developing trade crisis."

Immediate action also was necessary to consider the government's union proposals to Newfoundland.

"The mounting cost of living, which is affecting every Canadian, is, in large part, due to the continued maintenance of taxation in this country on a totally unjustifiable scale," said Mr. Bracken.

He noted a federal revenue surplus of about $500,000,000 to the end of September and said:

"We maintain that the very existence of this surplus—which will be still more increased by the fact that the Mackenzie King government has suspended several subsidies whose effect was to keep some prices low—is proof that the budget was bad; that it needs correction."

"We demand that this money be returned to the taxpayer through an immediate lowering of income taxes and particularly through the lowering of the invisible sales and nuisance taxes which have rolled up most of this surplus."

Philliponi Charges Dismissed In Vancouver

VANCOUVER (CP)—Magistrate Mackenzie Matheson Tuesday dismissed charges against Joe Philliponi, who had been accused of keeping liquor for sale in a downtown Seymour Street penthouse.

Evidence in the case was also accepted in the cases against Thomas Doucet and Ross Philliponi, charged with selling liquor, and the dismissal was applied to all three.

Defence counsel attacked the testimony of Constable George Whitby, who had testified he bought liquor at the penthouse. The police operative was accused of committing perjury and putting "himself in that position for promotion."

Cagers Open Play Tonight; Senior A Division Strong

The 1947-48 basketball season will officially open at the High School gymnasium tonight with three games scheduled on the card.

Feature of the opening night's program is the senior B battle between Brentwood Aces, defending champions, and Chinese Students. Eagles will clash with Navy in an intermediate A men's tussle preceding the main attraction while the opener will pit Comets against Eaglettes in an intermediate A girls' contest, starting at 7.

In the past teams from this city have garnered their share of British Columbia hoop laurels and with the great amount of talent available this year the coming season should prove no exception.

SENIOR A MEN

Although the senior A clubs will not see any action until near the end of the month mainly because of lack of practice sessions up to the present time, Victoria fans can look forward to some of the keenest rivalry in recent years in this division.

A number of the top-flight senior A stars have gathered together under the banner of the Y.M.C.A. for the season and are reportedly out to put Victoria on the map with a shot at the Olympics as their ultimate goal.

The nucleus of the squad is made up of former members of the Dominos, all but two of the association club having seen action with that group aggregation. Vic Dale, captain of last year's Legion squad, and Vince Clarkson of Army and Navy, are the newcomers. Ollie Goldsmith, Busher Jackson, Rookie Wright, George Straith, Johnny Clark and Don Woodhouse are former members of previous Domino championship clubs.

But before the laurels are handed over to the Y.M.C.A., two other clubs, last year's championship Legion five and Harold Turner's brilliant young K.V. aggregation will have much to say about the matter.

Loss of three players appears to have made the Legion club a little weaker this season but coach Alex McKeachie still has majority of last year's team intact and sees no reason why they should not repeat. Hank Rowe, Junior Fox, Leon Hall, Sid Watson, Ralph Baker, Dick Chung ranes and Ian McKeachie are turning out for the Vets.

K.V.'S STRONG

Probable surprise package of the league, however, may be Harold Turner's K.V.'s. The club which was barely nosed out by the Legion in last year's semi-finals are gunning for the title in earnest this season. For the past four months, practically since the close of play last season, K.V.'s have been working out weekly on the maple court and all the lads are in the best possible physical shape for the campaign.

Personel on this K.V. team differs little from that of last season with the exception that Turner has added Bob Hampton, 6-foot-5-inch centre. Ralph Baxter, another skyscraper, Duff McCaghey, Ralph Anderson, Bob McKay, Ron Castner, Angie Stewart and Fred Ranson round out the team.

Ranger Revival Forecast By Manager-Coach Frank Boucher

By ALAN HARVEY
SARANAC LAKE, N.Y. (CP) New York Rangers, having endured a personal purgatory through five unsuccessful National Hockey League seasons, look hopefully toward 1947-48 as the beginning of a Ranger revival.

Fifth last year and an emphatic last in the previous four campaigns, the club which won previous fame with its pattern passing, falls behind manager-coach Frank Boucher's prediction that Rangers will advance one notch into the fourth and last playoff spot.

"We'll have an improved team, you can count on that," says the 46-year-old Boucher, associated with the New York hockey chain since 1926 as player, coach or manager. "There probably will be about five new faces to replace five who have gone. We think the change will be for the better."

Boucher, who has forecast that Montreal Canadiens would skid from first to fifth place this year, credits the improvement in Ranger prospects principally to defenceman Frankie Eddolls and centre Buddy O'Connor, acquired from Canadiens in a pre-season trade. Both have won regular berths on the squad that plays its first N.H.L. game at Montreal Oct. 16.

Charlie Rayner, last year's regular netminder, is a fixture in goal with his understudy, sugar Jim Henry, ticketed for New Haven Ramblers of the American League. Of the five defencemen, Eddolls, Bill Moe, Bill Juzda and Neil Colville, the last three holdovers, have earned Boucher's approval. Other possibilities for the blue-line patrol are Fred Shero of Winnipeg and Harry Bell of Regina.

VETERAN FORWARD LINE

So far the only forward line definitely set is the scrappy trio of Edgar Laprade, Grant (Knobby) Warwick and Tony Leswick. O'Connor and veteran Bryan Hextall are set at centre and right wing respectively on a second line, but the left-wing spot is still open.

The third combination may be last year's kid line of Cal Gardner, Church Russell and Rene Trudell, although Boucher has given some thought to a new alignment. Phil Watson, a Ranger veteran, will be used as utility man and other forward possibilities are Ed Slowinski, last year with Ottawa Senators, and Pete Morin, former linemate of O'Connor.

Missing from last year's team are Joe Cooper, Ab Demarco, Al Pike and two of the players who figured in the Eddolls-O'Connor deal, Hal Laycoe and Joe Bell.

Of the others in camp, many will be sent to New Haven under a new Ranger strategy of stocking the farm club with youthful players. These include Duncan Fisher and Bill Gikas of Regina; Bing Jukes of Brandon, Man., and several Winnipeg rookies, Ian Mackintosh, Jack Gordon, George Robinson and Ed Kullman.

Boucher contends that Rangers will be a better-conditioned team this season, partly because of the switch in training-camp headquarters from Winnipeg to Saranac Lake. Quartered in a rambling, 12-room lodge high in the Adirondack Hills, with a private staff of cooks and attendants, the players work out daily at Olympic arena in nearby Lake Placid. The lodge was built at an estimated cost of $100,000 as permanent training headquarters for Philadelphia Eagles, a United States professional football team.

Flying 'Y' Swimmers To Meet Washington Squad Oct. 25

Washington Athletic Club's swimming team will provide the opposition for the Flying 'Y' squad in the first international swimming meet of the season here, Oct. 25, Archie McKinnon, Y.M.C.A. club coach, stated today.

Ray Daughters, coach of the American squad, and recent nominee to the United States Olympic coaching berth, will bring a squad of 10 swimmers over for the meet plus Al Patrick, former world's diving champion and still recognized as one of the top springboard artists in the game today.

Other galas on the "Y's" winter program as announced by McKinnon today will see the local squad travel to Vancouver Nov. 22 for a meet with the University of British Columbia. U.B.C. will pay a return visit to Victoria Jan. 24.

Annual meeting of the swimming club will be held at the Y.M.C.A. Friday at 7, with president George Morgan in the chair. Election of officers for the coming season will take place. Swimming films will also be shown at the conclusion of the meeting.

All-Star N.H.L. Club Favored To Beat Leafs

HERSHEY, Pa. (CP)—Art Ross, rink-wise manager of Boston Bruins, today put his stamp on the National Hockey League all-star team that will meet Toronto Maple Leafs at Toronto next Monday as "the greatest ever assembled."

"I actually feel sorry for Conn Smythe and his Leafs," added Ross, whose Bruins make up four of the 17 players chosen to meet the Stanley Cup champions in the league's first annual all-star game.

That was fighting talk, even if the commiseration were meant, but at least it fell in line with Smythe's own recent evaluation of the talent. The Leafs managing director estimated there would be "nearly $1,000,000" worth of players on display, divided roughly in $500,000 for the all-stars and $371,000 for his Leafs.

DREAM TEAM

Ross suggested that the all-star line-up, selected by coach Dick Irvin of Montreal Canadiens to include at least three players from each team, could go through an entire N.H.L. season without a defeat.

"Probably not for years will another all-star line-up be as powerful," he said, because some of the best players "are at their peak right now." In another year they'll be over the hill and replacements a coach might make then wouldn't be as close to hockey greatness.

He pondered a moment to consider a first-string line-up alone that included such stars as Boston's Milt Schmidt centreing Doug Bentley of Chicago Black Hawks and Maurice Richard of Montreal Canadiens, with Montreal's Ken Reardon and Butch Bouchard at defence in front of either Bill Durnan of Canadiens or Frankie Brimsek of Boston.

He chuckled as he considered the reserves—Max Bentley of Chicago flanked by Boston's Woody Dumart and Bobby Bauer; the Detroit Red Wings' defence duo of Bill Quackenbush and Jack Stewart, plus the utility men: Ted Lindsay, Detroit; Bill Mosienko, Chicago, and Grant Warwick, Tony Leswick and Edgar Laparde of New York Rangers.

Hostak Rallies To Gain Draw With Duke

SEATTLE (AP)—Little Georgia Duke of San Francisco outboxed the veteran Al Hostak to earn a draw with the former middleweight champion of the world. Duke weighed 159 and Hostak 161½.

Balding Al waited nine rounds for the opening that the busy little Duke never gave him, then poured everything into a futile 10th round flurry. Duke slipped the famous Hostak Sunday punch and was the aggressor when the final bell found Al worn out from his own efforts.

The decision was unpopular with the crowd which thought Duke had earned the call. The Associated Press score card gave Hostak two rounds, Duke three, and the others as even.

JUVENILE SOCCER PRACTICE

Boys under 13 wishing to play soccer for the fifth division Balmoral Thistles are asked to turn out to a workout at the High School grounds tonight at 5.

NEARLY ALL THE baseball experts, and there were plenty of them, who covered the 1947 World Series, agree that there was no individual hero in the classic such as appeared in the person of Harry The Cat Brecheen, in last year's series. Many names will be mentioned as possible heroes but the salient fact of the entire seven games is that the Yankees were a stronger aggregation on the whole than the Dodgers. Their defensive play was better, their offensive was stronger as witnessed by the team batting figures released at conclusion of the series and their pitching was better. How the Dodgers won three games with such an aggregation facing them is a miracle. But I suppose one can put it down to fight and getting the breaks when they were needed most.

IN MY OPINION there were six figures who stood head and shoulders above the rest in the series. First there was Joe DiMaggio. DiMaggio played a flawless game in centre field for the Yanks and won one game with a home run. Spec Shea, the great rookie righthander was another. He tossed the Yanks to two victories, marking the first time a rookie pitcher had ever accomplished the feat. Then comes Hugh Casey, the Brooklyn fireman. Every time you turned on the radio in the late innings there was Casey out on the hill for the Dodgers retiring the Yankees with monotonous regularity. His opposite for the New York Club, Joe Page, is also due much credit. Page was knocked out of the box Sunday but bounced right back in the final game to halt the Dodgers with one hit and face only 15 men in five innings.

JACKIE ROBINSON was a tower of strength at first base for the Dodgers and every time he got on base he proved a headache to the Yankee pitchers. Finally one cannot forget that great running catch turned in by Al Gionfriddo in the sixth game when he robbed Joe DiMaggio of a home run with what has been described as the greatest catch ever seen in any World Series.

FOR ANY SINGLE performance, however, I am inclined to stick by the one turned in by Harry "Cookie" Lavagetto. His blow, a pinch hit double to win the game for his club, was highly dramatic and will never be forgotten, especially by pitcher Bill Bevens of the Yankees. The climatic touch to the series did not come from any individual performance or any great play but from the mouth of Larry MacPhail, the Yankee president, who announced following the last out in the final game that he was retiring from the club. With first Durocher and now MacPhail out of baseball, where is the color of the American national pastime to come from? Of course Durocher's status in the game is still uncertain as his suspension was automatically lifted when the World Series ended but Commissioner Chandler still has the last word.

ALTHOUGH SOME FANS may want to see Leo (the lip) as manager of the Brooks I think the majority of the baseball public, including the Flatbush faithful, are quite pleased with the job turned in by manager Burt Shotton this past season.

He won the National League championship, didn't he? Not bad for a fellow who had supposedly retired from the game to live on his farm.

TO COACH ROYALS
NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C. (CP)—Owner Kenny McKenzie of the Pacific Coast Hockey League's New Westminster Royals Tuesday ended all speculation as to the team's new coach by announcing that he would be the active boss this winter. McKenzie, who succeeds Bobby King, is not new to the coaching business, having mentored the Edmonton Eskimos of the old western Canada circuit five years in a row.

Larry MacPhail Sells Out For $2,000,000

NEW YORK (AP)—So Larry MacPhail picks up the $2,000,000 and goes back to his Maryland farm and the world champion New York Yankees start down a new road under the direction of general manager George Weiss.

The era of showboat promotion that resulted in all-time records for baseball attendance at the Yankee Stadium in 1946 and 1947 and a new World Series high probably will be forgotten.

"You can only promote so far," Dan Topping, the new Yankee president, said last night while announcing that he and Del Webb, MacPhail's former partner, had bought up Larry's one-third share for $2,000,000.

What the future holds for MacPhail, one of the most colorful figures in baseball history, remains to be seen. But it definitely will not be with the Yankees.

"That is all over," Topping said, illustrating his words with a chopping motion of the hand, like a butcher wielding his cleaver.

The final showdown session attended by the three ex-partners yesterday was described by Topping as "amicable" but last night, when he and Webb held a press conference, MacPhail was absent.

LARRY TOSSES PUNCHES

During the hectic 27-hour period since the final out of the series, MacPhail blackened the eye of a former associate, John McDonald, road secretary under him at Brooklyn. That happened in a "victory" celebration at a downtown hotel, climaxed by a number of arguments that Topping said were "better left unsaid."

Topping admitted one of MacPhail's acts during the victory celebration was to "fire" Weiss. Commenting on that action, the youthful co-owner referred to Weiss' new job when he said, "not bad for a man who was fired last night."

MacPhail had been in favor of the sale of Yankee stock to three brokerage firms. But his partners were opposed. This precipitated the final break, with Webb and Topping arranging to buy up Larry's one-third interest. An interesting sidelight was offered by an authoritative source, who cannot be identified. He disclosed that MacPhail's original financial share of the $2,900,000 Jan. 25, 1945 deal by which the partners acquired the Yanks was only "about $200,000."

Through Topping and Webb it was made possible for MacPhail eventually to attain the status of a one-third stockholder. His salary as president, running through 1950 until ended by yesterday's deal, called for $50,000 a year.

HARRIS TO STAY

Bucky Harris, of course, remains as Yankee manager. He has a two-year contract running through 1948.

Bud Ward Takes Lead

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Defending champion Bud Ward of Spokane, dropping 20 and 25-foot putts, toured the Alderwood Country Club course in four under par Tuesday to move into the lead of the Pacific Northwest Golf Open.

Ward, who went around the course with dead-eye putting and then missed two five-foot ones on the 17th and 18th, carded a 32-36—68 today for a 36-hole total of 140. Par for the course is 37-35—72.

Angels Beat Acorns In First Game Of P.C.L. Playoffs

They're still playing baseball in the Pacific Coast League but Los Angeles Angels started off last night with intent to make short work of the final playoff series.

The Angels trimmed Oakland 4 to 2 in the first game of their best-of-seven series for the Governor's Cup. The teams play at Los Angeles again tonight and tomorrow night, then move to Oakland.

Last night Bob McCall limited Oakland to seven hits, with a ninth-inning assist from Jess Dobner after being yanked for a pinch hitter in the eighth. Gene Bearden was the losing pitcher.

Oakland: Bearden (8), T. Harty (9) and Raimondi; McCall, Dobner (9) and Stange, Gillespie (7).

Y.M.C.A. Membership Drive Is Outstanding Success

The Y.M.C.A.'s three-week long membership drive which concluded last night with a dinner in the Y.M.C.A. went over the top with a new membership enrollment of 1,194 members, Bob Morrison, program director, announced today. The objective of the association was 1,000 new members.

Bill Grant won first prize for bringing in the most members, enlisting 47 for a total point score of 1,014. The swimming and track field team captained by Elaine Silburn, captured the Program Council Trophy awarded to the team enlisting the most new members.

E. G. Rowbottom, president of the Y.M.C.A. board of directors, thanked Dennis Humphries, campaign chairman, and all the workers who took part in the campaign for their untiring efforts during the drive. He stressed the importance of the need for "Y" work in the city and the pressing need for a new building to take care of the present enrollment at the Y.M.C.A. which is taxing the present building to capacity. Many women members had to be turned down, he said, due to the limited facilities at our disposal.

J. V. Johnson, chairman of the membership committee, expressed his thanks to Dennis Humphries, members of the Y.M.C.A. staff and campaign workers. Mr. Humphries thanked the workers for the splendid work they had accomplished through the campaign.

Other individual winners of prizes on campaign teams included Clyde Elford, Vassar Hall, Bob Golding, John MacTavish, Dot Jones and J. Duncan.

Majority of the classes were scheduled to commence this week with capacity enrollment announced in all classes. Waltz Night, originally scheduled to take place Oct. 15, has been put back to Oct. 22, it was reported today.

Man Who 'Bit The Hand That Fed Him' Gets Prison Term

Red-moustached Harry Madour, whose home address is registered as Vale Street, North Sydney, N.S., who had been going about the city begging for food from door to door—and admitted to police he was the party who took a pair of glasses from a kitchen where he was being fed—was sentenced to 30 days in jail this morning by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court.

He was charged with vagrancy and pleaded guilty. He had a long prison record for vagrancy and breaking and entering—convictions.

Detective-Inspector Harry Mercer told the court that accused led Detectives Louis Callan and Alex. Briggs to some bushes where he had left the glasses.

The spectacles were owned by Mrs. A. Little, 1250 Beach Drive. She was visiting Mrs. H. E. Roberts, 1014 Catherine Street, who had given a man begging for food at the door a meal in the kitchen on Sept. 23. The glasses were found missing after his departure.

Inspector Mercer told the court accused had not been working for a month and that he slept in bushes and on park benches.

Police picked Madour up following a telephone report from Constable James Strong, 1017 Kings Road, reporting a man going from door to door yesterday begging for food.

Meat Supplies Practically Exhausted In City Stores

One more carload of meat may get to Victoria before the extension of the meat packers strike cuts off all supplies, it was learned today.

The Pacific Meat Company here is endeavoring to obtain one additional carload from Vancouver before the strike closes its plant Friday. The company there, according to word from Vancouver, has been given until Friday to clear the plant of cattle and prepare for the closure.

A carload was received by the company today and this will be distributed during the week.

However, it is only an appetizer for the Victoria area, which normally consumes 10 to 12 carloads of meat a week.

Gainers, which is also strike-bound today, received an extra carload of meat Monday, but has no hopes of getting more until the strike ends.

Already restaurant menus are showing the effects of lack of meat supplies, giving patrons a small choice of various dishes and chicken.

One firm expressed the hope of being able to get a shipment of meat direct from Calgary, but this is still indefinite.

Accidental Death Verdict In Drydock Motorcycle Mishap

A verdict of accidental death was returned by a six-man coroner's jury investigating the death of Alexander Brash, stoker petty officer, R.C.N., who was instantly killed Sunday afternoon when the motorcycle he was riding plunged into the naval drydock in H.M.C. Dockyard, Esquimalt.

Details of the accident were given this morning by Robert Wiegand, a civilian employee of the dockyard, who saw the tragedy. Mr. Wiegand told the jury he was driving along the roadway above the drydock when he saw the motorcyclist coming toward him at a speed between 25 and 30 miles per hour.

"He was about 30 feet away when I first saw him. He appeared to be having difficulty in controlling his machine so I stopped my car. He rode past my car and I noticed the bike was out of control."

Witness described how the motorcycle headed straight for the drydock and broke through the protective chain. He said the rider tried to throw himself off the machine as the bike went through the chain but momentum carried him forward and over the edge.

Surg. Lt.-Cmdr. Walter Elliott, who attended the scene of the accident, told the jury the deceased man's head, from the ears forward, was smashed in by the fall.

Robert Fleck, naval photographer, exhibited photos of the scene and Cyril Young, construction engineer, explained a plan of the drydock area. He noted the driveway around the top of the drydock was over 40 feet wide.

Stoker P.O. Arthur Hicks, owner of the motorcycle, told the jury he had given the machine to Brash to ride up to the gate of the dockyard and park it. He said Brash had ridden the machine many times before and the machine was in good working order.

Serving on the jury were: Harry Roof, foreman; Walter Norman, John Halstead, Gordon Fulmer, Charles McLeod and Stephen Birus.

Fisheries Officials Visit Victoria

Stewart Bates, deputy minister of fisheries for the federal government, today visited Victoria and Nanaimo on a tour of inspection. He was accompanied by J. Whitmore, chief supervisor of western fisheries, and H. C. Ranson, executive secretary of the Fisheries Price Support Board.

After meeting officials in Victoria the party proceeded to Nanaimo to visit the Pacific Biological station at Departure Bay.

Mr. Bates was appointed last spring.

City Prosecutor C. L. Harrison, who has often voiced criticism of wood being dumped on streets and sidewalks and being left there for days on end in direct contravention of the city by-law, and "little or no action taken about it," took another "dig" at this condition today in city police court.

He has been particularly critical of a like situation existing opposite the police station. It came up when Thomas Drysdale appeared on remand from last week in connection with a charge of having no license for a trailer.

Mr. Harrison pointed out that a mistake had been made in the case. "He has the license, but apparently failed to display it."

"But I am not going to press that charge as it is his second appearance here and I don't want to have to make him come again—because he probably had to walk over woodpiles on the sidewalks to get here."

The charge was withdrawn. Mr. Drysdale was visibly pleased with the turn of events.

2 Boys Who Tried To Snatch Purse Soon Apprehended

The wheels of justice worked quickly yesterday to apprehend the two 12-year-old city boys on bicycles who had attempted to snatch the purse from the hand of Mrs. M. MacLeod, 1751 Hampshire Road, early yesterday morning at Collinson and Blanshard Streets.

Mrs. MacLeod was en route to her work at St. Joseph's Hospital when the incident occurred. She immediately contacted police. A prowler car attended but failed to find the boys.

Just a few hours later a telephone message to the police spoke of two young boys trying to sell two bicycles. Police attended and while they found the boys did own the bicycles, they also learned that this they were the same boys when tried to snatch Mrs. MacLeod's purse. They are to be dealt with in Juvenile Court.

Teachers in charge of the workshop courses were Miss Ella Creighton Bill Chater, J. Morrison and Mr. Grant.

During the past four weeks, they have attended two special classes a week to get extra instruction in the organization of physical training work for the children. Their work included practical work in outdoor activities, indoor programs, warm-ups, combatives, agility, relays and team and group games.

Teachers in charge of the workshop courses were Miss Ella Creighton Bill Chater, J. Morrison and Mr. Grant.

One Ship Company Will Continue If Marine Strike Here

If a coastal ship tie-up is brought about by the threatened strike of the National Association of Marine Engineers (A.M.E.), there will still be one sea transportation link left between the mainland and lower Vancouver Island, it was learned here today.

This will be the Vancouver Barge Transportation Ltd., which J. Lindsay, local manager, said today would continue operation. A fairly good proportion of general freight reaches the lower mainland through this company.

However, Mr. Lindsay did not anticipate his company would be able to take on new customers as he said, cargo held up by the strike would be "hot." This would mean Vancouver Barge could continue with its present customers, but no others.

First Sea Burial To Be Made From Destroyer Crescent

The first burial at sea to be made from a Canadian naval vessel on this coast will take place Thursday morning when H.M.C.S. Crescent consigns the body of St. P.O. Alexander E. A. Brash to the sea off Race Rocks.

P.O. Brash, who was killed Sunday afternoon when he drove a borrowed motorcycle off the docks and crashed to the bottom of Givenchy drydock, had always expressed the desire to be buried at sea.

Taken from Sands Mortuary, the body will be met at H.M.C.S. Naden gates at 9:30 Thursday morning and transferred to the destroyer Crescent on a gun car, riage with a guard from Naden.

There will be a Church of England service held aboard the Crescent with the family attending. The service will be conducted by Chaplain F. M. Godfrey, R.C.N. The family will then disembark and the Crescent will proceed to the vicinity of Race Rocks where committal will take place with a firing party from the Crescent signalling the honors.

Retail Turkey Price Advances 5c To 10c

Wholesale price of turkeys for the Thanksgiving season has been set at 45 cents a pound for Grade A, as compared with 43 cents last year, it was announced today by D. R. Stewart, who represented the Vancouver Island Turkey Improvement Association at a meeting in New Westminster last week.

Retail prices are expected to vary between 52 and 55 cents a pound. One butcher stated the large turkeys would sell at 52 cents a pound and the small at 55 cents.

"There will be sufficient birds but no surplus," said Mr. Stewart, who just completed a tour of Vancouver Island turkey farms.

The Vancouver Island association met with the Fraser Valley Association to set prices.

"Due to sharply increased costs of feed, members find it necessary to fix a higher price than last year," Mr. Stewart said. "The rise in price, decided upon, will partially compensate the farmer for his higher feed costs."

Especially in view of the greater number of accidents on highways of late, provincial police are clamping down on motorists who break the law in crossing over the double line centreing highways in their territory. Three were fined $10 and $250 costs in provincial police court yesterday for this offence.

Charles Bland Jr. pleaded not guilty and elected trial in a higher court this morning charged on Oct. 8 with attempting to commit theft of goods owned by Norman Higgins, 1405 Store Street. The magistrate fixed bail at $1,000 in one or two sureties and remanded the preliminary hearing to Friday.

Sidney Roofing has written the City Council to explain that trial runs on new furnace equipment for asphaltic operations have shown that the obnoxious odors which have prompted many citizens to write the City Council, will be eliminated entirely by the end of October, when installation is completed.

Mayor Asks Ottawa For Quick Action On-Marine Dispute

Mayor Percy George is today making representations to federal Minister of Labor Humphrey Mitchell, and provincial Minister of Labor George Pearson, asking that definite action be taken to get an early settlement of the threatened steamship strike.

In sending the telegram to Ottawa Mayor George is acting in conjunction with Mayor W. M. Mott of New Westminster, president of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, and Acting Mayor Charles Jones of Vancouver.

"The steamship strike will affect us on Vancouver Island more seriously than it will the mainland cities," Mayor George commented, "and I feel the two senior governments are aware of the need for immediate and definite action."

Mayor Mott sent Mayor George copies of the telegrams he sent on behalf of the U.B.C.M. in which he asked for immediate attention to initiate proceedings to prevent further strikes in B.C., as well as settling the existing ones. "I feel your government should take a strong lead in negotiations with labor interests," he said.

Film Council News

A Film Council workshop will be open Oct. 15 and 16 at the National Film Board office, 1255 Langley Street. Mr. Belton, Victoria representative, will be in charge, and will conduct sessions on the various phases of usage and care of film and projection equipment.

The Victoria Public Library advises that a 20-minute color film entitled "Great Lakes" has just been received. Another film at the library, "Ski Revels," is an exciting film full of the thrills and spills common to skiing.

The film "Atomic Energy" will be available at the library for a few days only.

Victoria division of the Canadian Youth Hostels Association will meet tonight at 8 in the Y.W.C.A. Election of officers to serve during the forthcoming year will take place.

Extra P.T. Class

A workshop, attended by 40 teachers with grade 4, 5 and 6 classes, in physical training is just completed, George Grant, physical education director for the Greater Victoria school district, said today.

During the past four weeks, they have attended two special classes a week to get extra instruction in the organization of physical training work for the children. Their work included practical work in outdoor activities, indoor programs, warm-ups, combatives, agility, relays and team and group games.

Teachers in charge of the workshop courses were Miss Ella Creighton Bill Chater, J. Morrison and Mr. Grant.

One Ship Company Will Continue If Marine Strike Here

If a coastal ship tie-up is brought about by the threatened strike of the National Association of Marine Engineers (A.M.E.), there will still be one sea transportation link left between the mainland and lower Vancouver Island, it was learned here today.

This will be the Vancouver Barge Transportation Ltd., which J. Lindsay, local manager, said today would continue operation. A fairly good proportion of general freight reaches the lower mainland through this company.

Clancy To Instruct Western Canada Hockey Referees

CALGARY (CP)—Uniform

interpretation of rules throughout the Western Canada Senior Hockey League is the idea behind the staging of a referees' instruction period here today under the direction of Frank (King) Clancy of the National Hockey League's referee staff.

D. P. McDonald of Calgary, W.C.H.L. president, said he expects several referees from southern Alberta and some from Saskatchewan to attend. Any referee wishing to take part is welcome.

Clancy will rehearse plays on the ice and show how they should be called and then discuss decisions with the students. He will also run through a system of signals designed to give every person in an arena an opportunity of knowing what call was made by an official.

The western league arranged for the school, expected to last most of the afternoon, after learning Clancy would be in Calgary today to handle an exhibition game between Chicago Black Hawks and Kansas City Pla-Mors.

W.C.H.L. rules are the same as those used in the N.H.L. except that a W.C.H.L. player cannot be fined.

McDonald is determined to wipe out as much as possible the complaints of some players that they can work a certain type of play in some rinks but not in others. Players also have found they can get away with tactics in one city but the same move might bring a penalty in another league point.

Market Affected By Rails Upswing

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved erratically today in the wake of an early upswing sparked by railroad shares.

Most price changes were narrow. Steels, motors and oils suffered a morning sinking spell but regained their balance later as support arrived.

Depressed were such recent favorites as Skelly Oil and Mission Corp., along with leaders like U.S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Goodrich, American Telephone, International Nickel and Douglas Aircraft. In higher ground were Santa Fe, Union Pacific, Continental Oil, Burlington Mills, Boeing and International Telephone.

Dow Jones closing averages:
30 Industrials, 178.78, off 1.23
20 rails — 48.68, off 0.26
15 utilities — 35.37, off 0.06
65 stocks — 64.02, off 0.37
Total sales—1,130,000.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

HIGHWAYS THAT HUM
IF REMINDER WERE NEEDED, the recent series of shocking automobile accidents on Vancouver Island should be a reminder that motoring can be a very dangerous undertaking. Like fire, a car can be a good servant but a bad master. And when through carelessness, lack of proper precaution, or excessive speed it gets out of control, a high-powered, heavy car or truck can be a deadly weapon.
